Powerlines Training aid

THIS versatile practice aid can be used for all facets of the game and is ideal for use at the range.

When hitting balls from an identical spot, use the marked ball lines to ensure you have the correct width of stance, toe angle, ball position and distance from the ball.

Then you can groove your perfect swing path by adding the curved ball lines, ensuring that correct habits are then taken onto the course.

If you have a specific problem, such as cutting across the ball, it is easy to set up the Powerlines to force an in-to-out swing to produce a draw instead.

You can also use the lines to help with your putting, with reference points to determine the length of backswing and followthrough, as well as ensuring a pure strike and assisting green reading.

The 66-page booklet is comprehensive, but it can seem confusing if you try and study more than one aspect at a time.

Once you have worked out all the variables, mark them on so you don't have to start from scratch next time!

Motocaddy Deluxe seat

FOR those of you who have so far been too proud to add a seat to your trolley I have just one piece of advice – don't be, it's wonderful!

And if you suffer from a bad back, it's doubly wonderful!

This seat is sturdily constructed, and very easy to attach. And once the main bar is fastened to your trolley, the seat just slots on and off readily for safe keeping away from the trolley shed.

The flip top padded seat also houses useful storage space. Practical, comfortable and highly recommended.

Adidas Climaproof Storm Waterproof

I WOULDN'T normally start by talking about the trousers of a waterproof suit, but these are so good, I can't resist.

The waistband is fully adjustable on both sides with Velcro, ensuring a perfect fit. And the legs have great knee length zips and width settings. However, the best bit is the three adjustable leg lengths, via internal buttons.

The jacket is highly unusual, with the tactile shoulder stripes, and the stormproof zips give ultimate confidence in its waterproof qualities.
